

Local and Personal

Hair was among the visitors here this week.

P. Alston and children have returned home after a few weeks stay at Beach.

Ferry, of Fort White, formerly of Live Oak, was a business here Tuesday.

Tom Johnson came up from Allendale and spent the day with Mrs. E. B. Groover.

A lot of fountain syringes and goods at Cook's.

Levin and daughter, Miss Rosa, returned home after a delightful visit in North Carolina.

Dottie Sewell, of Jacksonville, was guest of the Misses Goodbread's.

Paulk, of Tifton, Ga., is in the city accompanied by her bright little daughter, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joe Roof.

Shoes and school suits at S. White's.

Charley Groover and children returned home Wednesday after an extended visit with relatives and friends in Georgia.

Lizzie Lawler, returned to her home in Savannah yesterday after several weeks' visit in this city the guest of Misses Conner.

Mrs. Will Tedder returned Wednesday from North Carolina. Mrs. Tedder spent the greater part of the summer.

P. V. Leavengood, of Ocala, the very able business manager of Ocala Banner, is in the city the guest of her sister, Mrs. Lee Cox, at Suwannee Hotel.

Frank Lee National Biscuit Company is at S. P. Mays.

Services Sunday, September 5th at the tent, 10:45 a. m., 3:30 p. m., 7:30 p. m. Evangelists R. A. and White will conduct the meeting. Chas. H. Noble and Miss Mabel will give special music at each service. Go to all the meetings and let's be helping hand.

A cent box of candy for five cents at Cook's.

J. A. Granberry, one of the city's most prominent educators, is in the city for a few days the guest of his old pupils, Col. Ira J. Carter. Granberry has accepted a position in the Columbia College, at Lake Wales, and that great institution is to be inaugurated upon securing the services of this able and scholarly gentleman.

Wilson & Thomson's advertisement in today's paper.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Suwannee Hardware Company was held at the office of the company Wednesday evening. The report of the officers showed a very good and satisfactory business the past year. Sales were greater than the company had hoped for, considering the general condition of trade last year, especially in the building line. The old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year, viz: President, O. O. Williams; Secretary and Treasurer, R. E. McNeill.

Mr. Meharg and Mr. Johnson, working under direction of the Government Agricultural Department, spent Wednesday at Welborn where Mr. Meharg made a splendid address along the lines of agriculture to some twenty-five or thirty farmers. The farmers of this county are beginning to "set up and notice" of the instructions given by Mr. Meharg because of the success made with demonstrative work in season. Actual experience has shown theories advanced by him to be good results.

Mr. L. B. Edwards, principal of the school, returned to the city Monday after having spent the vacation at his home in North Carolina. He is in good health and spirits and is now arranging for school opening. He has a splendid corps of trained teachers, and the prospects are that the term of the High School will be the most successful one. School will open Monday, September 20th, with the following teachers: Miss Virginia Hall, Miss Margaret Lewis, Miss Ada Hall, Miss Ella Mundy, Miss Ada Hall, Miss Myra Talbot, Miss Daisy Hall, Miss Ethel Hardage, Miss Anderson and Miss Nettie Swin.

It was just as we expected. Sid went from here to New York a few weeks ago with T. S. Baisden and Henry, but he didn't stay with them very long. Visiting great dry goods establishments and examining the styles and colors of dress goods to be worn this fall and winter did not interest him. He stood it as long as he could, then slipped off from his companions and went to St. Louis, where he bought two car loads of horses and shipped them to his sales stables here. He could not stand to think of all the establishments in town stocking up with new goods and his place of business not putting in new stock. He was determined to be in the push, and with about sixty head of the very best western mares that could be obtained from the market by an experienced buyer—animals best suited for section—and at prices that are well below the market. If you need a horse, or if you are likely to need one soon, it will pay you to buy from the markets on horses and mules. Advertisement in today's paper and at the Hinely-Stephens Co. stables will announce their new horses.

MALARIA.

A Statement of a Successful Cure.
(Mrs.) Mabel Smith, Dallas, writes: "Feb. 1909, PAM-ALA has absolutely cured me of Malaria (Chills and Fever). For some months past I have lived in the swamps of Louisiana. I never saw a well day for six months. Malaria has held me in its grip and for the past seven weeks I have been confined to bed. Thanks to Pam-Ala I am now entirely well again."

Col. J. F. Harrell left yesterday for Macon, Ga., on a business trip.

Miss Josephine Briere, of Lake City, is the guest of her friend, Mrs. E. L. Wilder, this week.

Capt. and Mrs. W. J. Hillman and niece, Miss Ethel Wilder, who have been at Waynesville, N. C., for the past month, returned home Wednesday night.

Miss Fannie Sheppard, accompanied by her little niece, Birdie Lee Wilder, left for her home in Lake City Friday, after an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. E. L. Wilder.

J. W. Register was down from Jasper Tuesday and Wednesday to attend the annual meeting of the Suwannee Hardware Co., of which he is a stockholder and member of the board of directors.

Little Frank Airth celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary Wednesday by entertaining a number of his little friends at his home on Connor street. The little folks had a good time all around, and all wish for this popular little gentleman many happy birthdays.

Messrs. R. P. Hopkins and D. M. Lewis, of Live Oak, came to Jacksonville Saturday and were guests at the Seminole club until Sunday afternoon, when they went to Pablo Beach, returning to Jacksonville yesterday morning. They returned to Live Oak yesterday afternoon.—Times-Union, August 31st.

The issuance of warrants for the arrest of the keepers and inmates of the bawdy houses near this city on Monday had the effect of running them out of the county. Should they ever attempt to return they will be arrested, and placed in jail if bond is not furnished. A splendid riddance—their room is worth much more to Suwannee county than their company.

Hon. W. A. Tison, of Welborn, with the other members of the committee appointed by the Joseph Finnegan Camp, Confederate Veterans, were here Wednesday and Thursday of this week, conferring with the committee appointed by the city council and board of trade to make arrangements for the entertainment of the state re-union of the Confederate Veterans, to be held in this city Oct. 20-21, inclusive.

The various committees working on the program of entertainment for the old Confederate Veterans reunion to be held here in October held meetings in this city Wednesday and Thursday, a full account of which will be published next week. Much interest is being taken in the reunion by our people, and one thing that makes it of especial interest just now is the approaching celebration of Admiral Semmes' one hundredth birthday, and along with this might be mentioned the fact that only three people of the Confederate navy are living in Florida who surrendered with Admiral Semmes at Greensboro, N. C., in 1865, viz.: Judge A. O. Wright, of Jacksonville; Ben S. Herring of Tallahassee, and T. J. Appleyard, of Lake City.

The Jacksonville Times-Union of last Friday contained the following very complimentary notice of one of Live Oak's prominent citizens: Hon. L. E. Roberson, of Live Oak, spent yesterday in the city, coming here to transact certain important legal matters. Mr. Roberson is one of the leading members of the state bar. He held the high honor of being state's attorney in his circuit two terms, and upon being urged to accept a third term declined on account of his desire to become a member of the legislative department of the state government. As a member of the last legislature he especially distinguished himself by his valiant fight in behalf of the constitutional amendment providing for the question of prohibition to be submitted to a vote of the people in November of next year. He was one of the candidates for speakership of the house, and his defeat for this position was doubtless due to the fact that it was the lack of acquaintance with the legislators. However, he made a good race against these odds, and should he be returned to the legislature next time it is possible that he will become and prove a very formidable candidate for the position of presiding officer of the house.
